Injury, Berkeley, give nation's top team a scare at Campolindo Shootout

By Mitch Stephens

If Duke-bound Chelsea Gray screaming in pain, holding her right ankle early in the first quarter didn't frighten St. Mary's-Stockton coach Tom Gonsalves enough, then Berkeley's girls basketball team certainly did.

The Yellowjackets, ranked second in the Bay Area, raced to a 13-point lead in the middle of the second quarter against the nation's top-ranked team.

But Gray, with ankle heavily taped, returned, the Rams kept their poise and eventually wore down the spirited Yellowjackets in a 72-61 victory in the premier game of the highly-entertaining Campolindo Shootout Saturday in Moraga.

Gray, a 6-foot point guard, finished with a team-high 18 points but it was her nine assists, many of the no-look and spectacular variety, that keyed the victory for St. Mary's, which improved to 19-1. The Rams had numerous other contributors including 5-11 junior guard Ali Gibson who had 18 points and seven rebounds.

Berkeley, which got 19 points and four assists from superb junior guard Brittany Boyd, dropped to 15-3 but definitely will gain confidence from playing toe-to-toe with the No. 1 squad in the land.

In other action, St. Mary's-Berkeley, ranked seventh by The Chronicle in the Metro Area, defeated No. 17 Deer Valley 61-42, No. 19 Campolindo held off No. 14 Lincoln, 71-60, No. 8 Northgate game a school-record 39 points by Kayla Galanter on 11 3-pointers in a 96-38 win over Fairfield, El Camino defeated Castlmeont 53-51, No. 11 Dublin knocked off Alameda 58-51 and Livermore knocked off Pinole Valley 64-36.

Chelsea Gray has the Heart of a Champion. What an effort tonight by her and the St. Mary's teammates! Berkeley HS was a worthy opponent and played tough.

The match ups I saw today were great. THIS was a well organized showcase. Any score from Dublin/ Alameda?
