Mariah sings right tune for Titans

Ell-Sean Smith

It is tradition that the Alameda Contra Costa Athletic League (ACCAL) has had its share of great teams over the years with Berkeley, El Cerrito, and Pinole Valley, but it also is home to many great players. Sure DaNesha Stallworth at Pinole Valley comes to mind, but Mariah Davis of Hercules can't be left out of that group.

Talk about it in the Message Boards

Davis, a gifted 6-footer, is currently finishing the summer traveling circuit with Pico Wilburn's Bay Area Warriors. She was a picture of consistency for coach Willie LaNere's Hercules Titans contributing 13.5 points, 10.4 rebounds, and 3.4 blocks per game on a team that finished 22-8 last season. In addition, Davis collected doubles-doubles in 16 of those games and earned a triple-double in a 52-25 win over Hogan of Vallejo finishing with 15 points, 18 boards, and an astounding 10 blocked shots.

Her father, Chuck Davis, says his daughter is a hard worker on the floor and she's very athletic, but he figures that she should be more assertive on the offensive end. "There have been some games where she's attempted only four shots," Mr. Davis noted.

The Titans will be adding more size to their lineup in the upcoming season and that will afford Davis the opportunity to utilize her athleticism at the power forward position which should mean more touches in the Titans' offensive scheme. She shot a respectable 40% from the field last season on 391 attempts, but only 41% from the line. According to the elder Davis, the Titans have a promising group of undergraduates joining the team, but as the principle figure in the attack, Davis holds the key to Hercules' fortunes. The numbers say it all as the team was 15-1 in the games Mariah earned a double-double, the only blemish being a loss to two-time NorCal finalist Pinole Valley.

Davis is not ranked at this point as one of the top 40 players in the region, but that will most certainly change in the very near future.

Mariah sports a 3.8 GPA and has already secured a passing score on the all-important SAT, but dad says she plans to take it again to increase her score. As of this writing, Nevada, Utah, Oregon, and Oregon St. are some of the schools interested in the tall Titan.
