▼ California nabs in-state guard Mikayla Lyles (Oct7)

Mikayla Lyles has given a verbal commitment to California, according to her club coach, Sean Chambers.

Lyles, a 5-foot-8 guard from Bishop O'Dowd High School in Pleasanton, Calif., also considered Arizona State and Oregon. She took official visits to California and Oregon. With an impressive knack for knocking down three's, Lyles was including among ESPN HoopGurlz' Top Shooters of the Summer.

"She's the most consistent kid I've ever coached," Chambers said. "She's the best clutch shooter I've seen. ... She won a lot of games for us this summer."

Lyles and her JBS Purple teammates surged onto the elite scene this summer with a strong team that has now had five players verbal to Division I schools, three of those to the Pacific-10 Conference with Lyles' decision.
